HEARING RE: CONNECTICUT LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY
JUNE 5, 2012

1           MR. CASE: What we've provided is actually
2 more detailed than what is required from the ISO PP4
3 estimating procedures. That's the way all of our 4 estimates are built and we report on costs according to 5 ISO PP4. We provided you that, plus some additional 6 breakout that we felt would be helpful, but beyond that,
7 it gets into competitive issues and we're concerned about 8 maintaining our integrity of the bid process.

9           MR. VICTOR CIVIE: The problem that we 10 have now is the following. I've already speced out this 11 project and I want to make sure -- unfortunately, when I 12 did spec it out, I speced it out maybe a year ago my 13 figures might not be up to date so I'll double check 14 those to make sure that they are. However, the crux of 15 this is the high rate -- or the crux of my position is 16 the high rate and their high estimation of underground
17 variations. Never has that been underground variations
18 this costly.

19           Now, since the state statute passed with 20 the financial part, we're talking about 1650(p), we have 21 this. I need to see those basics and compare them to 22 what I have.

23           CHAIRMAN STEIN: Let me just ask.
24 Attorney Fitzgerald, if this additional information was
